SURPRISES ALONG THE CITY’S OUTSKIRTS

Be adventurous and discover the most beautiful nature, culture, play areas and resting places along Rondje Enschede. An unforgettable experience!

On the boundary between Enschede’s urban area and its countryside area you will find ‘ Rondje Enschede’, a biking and hiking route of about 52 km in total. The route weaves through a varying landscape and offers attractive and surprising stops. From a tea garden to an art gallery. From a forest playground to a blueberry farm. The route leads over new and existing paths, along the beautiful green outskirts of the city, but also crosses the city centre. Options for a shorter route: Rondje Boekelo (12 km) and Rondje Glanerbrug (10 km). The route is identified by the white and green arrows.

HISTORICAL OUTSKIRTS

Rondje Enschede was inspired by the round shape that has formed the historic outskirts of the city for centuries. The first recognisable outskirts of Enschede date back to around 1800. The ring roads were constructed around 1930 and then marked the city boundry, as a new ‘round’. The current city boundary has been a defining element for the biking and hiking route.
